VARIETY

After interviewing a number of the screen's most prominent leading men, Goldwyn chose Kenneth Harlan to play the role of Captain Donald Keap in the Goldwyn production of Rex Beach's story, "Going Some," which will be shown at the Variety Theatre again to-day. Mr. Harlan is six feet, of athletic build, good looks and engaging personality. He has been in pictures a little over three years, and during that time has won his way into the affection of the public through his strong, manly characterizations and likable presence. His first appearance before the picture camera was under the guiding hand of D. W. Griffith, who cast him as leading man for Constance Talmadge. Kenneth Harlan is the son of Rita W. Harlan, the noted actress.

PAINTS

Those who imagine that the pictures of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight are as brief as the fight itself, are making a bad guess. There are five long reels, crammed full of action. Glances are first given of the training methods of the two men—and these glimpses are interesting insights into their respective characters. There is a romantic streak in connection with Carpentier's training methods, in contradistinction to the bulldog methods of his weightier opponent. A part of the film is devoted to the intensely exciting scenes as the crowds storm the arena. Close-ups are given of noted people at the ringside—and it is amusing to notice how they act when a fight is in progress. The fight itself is given twice—each round being shown as though the audience was right at the ringside, and then each round is repeated within the ropes. The latter is unusually effective, and the pictures were secured by telescopic lens which bring the combatants to within three feet of the camera. Without a doubt, they are the best fight pictures ever made. Twenty cameramen trained their machines on the ring. Not the least interesting feature is a massed assemblage of 30,000 people, who at times, went literally wild at various stages of the fight.

EVERYBODY LAUGHED

AT MUSICAL COMEDY

Three Acts of Nonsense at the Princess Theatre This Week

Everybody laughed and laughed long and heartily last night at the opening performance of "Because She Loved Him So," presented by the Mildred Page Players at the Princess Theatre.

This three-act musical comedy is one of the very best staged by the local company during its present Summer offerings of this nature. During the course of the play J. G. Coots sings in exceedingly good voice, and last night he was encored so heartily that he was obliged to return no less than three times. Lily Dooley made a hit, too, in the song offerings.

Miss Page was very good in the character of a suspicious, jealous wife with a very hot temper, while J. C. Coots played the part of her long-suffering husband. In ridiculous contrast to this couple, and really the key-note to the great success of the show, were Byron Aldern and Miss Lisle, who, after thirty years of domestic happiness as man and wife without a single quarrel, suddenly started fighting like cats and dogs in order that the other couple might see how foolish it was.

Lee Jaxon played the part of Miss Page's younger brother. He was in love with the daughter of the Dean, who believed in peace and quietness, but did not get much of it in the end.

In the part of Margaret, a serving maid, Mr. Elton was funny.

The musical numbers are light and airy, and the whole offering is one that will appeal to the patrons of the Princess. The comedy will be presented for the balance of this week, with Saturday matinee.

COLUMBIA

It's rather late in the day to say what might have been, but none the less, it becomes apparent that Pershing overlooked one bet, and that there was a way to sizzle Hindenburg's whiskers, and jolt the whole Prussian guard with a wallop that would have made the Rhine bubble if they had only consulted one bewhiskered individual. The secret of how it could have been done is the business of the enterprising, if a trifle dilapidated, of the "Toonerville Trolley," the commutator's despair, and he now discloses and exclaims, "It's with the aid of Fontaine Fox. It seems that if the Allies had only been able to send over at Chateau Thierry a barrage of the "Skipper's" own particular brew of raisin cider, it would unquestionably and without a chance of failure, have kicked the whole German army clear back to Berlin! The worthy Skipper is said to furnish ample proof of the potency of his stimulant, and also perform a lot of other amazing feats in the new Fontaine Fox commutator. "The Skipper's Narrow Escape," which will be the comedy feature at the Columbia Theatre to-day and balance of the week.

THE NEW GOVERNOR-GENERAL.

It is no exaggeration to say that no other newly-appointed Governor-General has been welcomed to Canada with such measure of personal warmth as that which has marked the reception of Lord Byng of Vimy who now begins his duties as His Majesty's representative at Ottawa. His Excellency is already known to thousands of Canadians personally and to the rest of our people indirectly as the able first commander of the Canadian Corps in France, and his subsequent brilliant services as leader of the magnificent British Third Army were followed by all Canada with pride and admiration. His many qualifications, amiable personality, tact and general ability make it easy to predict for him a successful term in the high office to which he has been called.

MR. HOOVER'S DIAGNOSIS.

"Famine in Russia is beyond the reach of charity and will recur yearly until that country's economic system is changed. Even were funds available for the relief of Russia involves the rehabilitation of transportation, of agriculture and industry, necessitating measures again beyond the reach of charity."

This is Mr. Herbert Hoover's diagnosis of Russia's awful plight. He recognizes the need for private charity if only to save as many lives as possible; but the substance of his opinion supports the theory that these helpless people must be assisted in spite of themselves and in spite of their Government if the rest of the world is to escape the acceptance of a gigantic problem in self-defence. No military force can accomplish it. History provides too many warnings. It can be accomplished only by the resumption of commercial relations with the outside world.

It may be true that Russia has very little trade to offer at the present time. None the less her vast territory can be salvaged from the despoilers by the will of the people once it has been manifested to them that hope is contingent upon the substitution of representative government for an experimental type of administration headed by dreamers.

And what if Russia has nothing with which to pay at the present time? Is the rest of the world content to bury its head in the sand and ignore the consequences of her condition? Some bad debts may have to be incurred. Some remnants of Bolshevik cunning may outlive the critical period through which the country is now passing. Even viewed from the purely mercenary standpoint it must be admitted that there is profit to the outside world in a Russia that is only partially self-supporting. Leave her to her own devices, let her struggle along in all her traditional ignorance and superstition, and the world will invite a calamity equaling that of the recent conflict.

Mr. Hoover is right when he says that the relief of Russia involves the rehabilitation of transportation and industry and agriculture. And on the unquestionable assumption that relief is worth administering it remains for the powerful nations of Europe and for the United States to engage in the pursuits of commerce with Russia in order that the only practical means of succor may be developed. It may take years to accomplish and it will be a costly business. At the same time it is for the various Governments to consider whether it is cheaper to run the risk of bad debts than to attempt to isolate one hundred and eighty million people who are famine stricken and diseased.

There is only one answer. Russia's wreckage must be salved and the rest of the world must rely upon the gratitude of the great-hearted Muscovite to perform such interior renovations as may harmonize with a reconstructed economic fabric. To leave him helpless is to invite calamity.

THE UNEMPLOYED.

While the details of the unemployment conference which took place in Vancouver yesterday may not be known by the general public until something of a concrete nature has been evolved by those who took part it should be pointed out that an important responsibility rests upon the shoulders of every employer of labor in this Province. It goes without saying that if economic conditions were nearer their normal state the discomforting outlook of the moment would not occasion undue alarm. But the spectacle of a large number of unemployed British Columbians during the coming Winter indicates the gravity of the situation and emphasizes the need for more than ordinary measures. It would seem to be superfluous to embellish the remarks which the Attorney-General made to the Vancouver gathering except to lay particular stress upon the necessity of a liberal measure of co-operation from the Dominion Government if only on account of the fact that its policy of demobilization has resulted in an overloaded labor market in this Province. In the meantime the Attorney-General and the Department of Labor are entitled to every possible co-operation on the part of the employers in order that the task which confronts them shall be simplified.

A DIFFICULT ISSUE.

The establishment of the first stages of self-government in India is being marked by the development of the usual political sub-divisions with specific policies and principles. Yesterday's dispatches noted the organization of a national Liberal Party which includes in its platform a plank calling for equality of status for East Indians with the other races of the Empire with particular application to the exclusion policies of Canada and Australasia.

In this provision lies the germ of a very difficult and delicate problem which some day may seriously compromise inter-Imperial relations. If the Liberal Party of India ever should be able to make the exclusion of East Indians from the Pacific Dominions a paramount issue in India's politics, as it is almost certain to do as self-government develops in the great Oriental dependency, a formidable threat to Imperial solidarity will arise. It requires no exceptional play of the imagination to visualize the difficulties involved in a situation in which a Dominion of more than 300,000,000 people would be demanding the right for their nationals to migrate to any part of a common Empire they as British subjects might desire to live in, while the Empire would be as resolutely opposed to complying with that demand.

DE VALERA REPLIES.

Although it may take a little time to examine its terms there will be general satisfaction experienced over the announcement that de Valera has replied to the proposals of the British Government. Not a hint was allowed to drop as to the nature of the document handed to Mr. Austin Chamberlain to-day, but the receipt of the reply marks another stage in the progress of negotiations in which all the world is more or less interested. All that may be said at the moment is that the British Government has granted each request which the Sinn Feiners have made upon it in order that every responsible leader of the "republican" movement might have an opportunity to discuss the proposals in a peaceful atmosphere. Whether these privileges have assisted in developing a more conciliatory attitude on the part of the Dail Eireann remains to be seen. In the interval the truce cannot fail to make a favorable impression on the bulk of the Irish people and increase the volume of public sentiment in favor of accepting the Government's offer as a basis for a conference.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Former King Charles of Austria seems to be in trouble about his future domicile. Spain will take him in if he will agree to reduce his establishment. As the financial resources upon which he has been drawing are showing signs of running low the Spanish condition may be easy to fill.

Sir Arthur Currie says "if Premier Lloyd George attends the Washington Conference he ought to come to Canada." It is highly important that should he come to the United States and the people of this country can be depended upon to get him over the border if he does.

Among the pictures that no artist could paint may be included the ex-Kaiser crying "Hoch!" while his compatriots are celebrating the second anniversary of the German republic in the Berlin Opera House to-day.

The Times is in hearty accord with the sentiments expressed by a correspondent regarding the services rendered to this community by Dr. E. Hasell, both as superintendent of the Provincial Jubilee Hospital and subsequently in connection with the medical work of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment. He has proved himself a citizen of sterling worth and his record of good deeds well done in his professional capacity has won for him a place of universal esteem.

HOROSCOPE

THURSDAY, AUGUST 11, 1921.
(Copyright, 1921, by The McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Astrologers read this as an uncertain day. Although Saturn is in benefic aspect, Neptune is adverse. All who depend on the soil for their income should benefit from this rule which foreshadows new discoveries of oil and minerals. The earth should yield abundantly at this time, but there may be losses through bad systems of transportation or because of unfavorable market conditions.

Fame and honor for an aged man seem to be indicated. Rewards long deferred should come to those who have long been disappointed in the fruition of their hopes.

This is not a lucky day for beginning journeys by sea, for there will be sudden storms and even shipwrecks. It is foretold.

During this way evil gossip may flourish and it may reach even the highest places in social and official life.

Neptune is in an aspect believed to encourage adventures of various sorts. Care concerning investments should be especially vigilant at this time for there will be many bubbles of fortune offered.

The rule is encouraging to labor. Industrial conditions should improve immediately.

Saturn afflicts the ascendant of King Alfonso of Spain, who will face many difficulties and unrest among the people are strongly indicated.

Astrolators declare that owing to conditions that made it possible for the Kaiser to seek refuge in Holland the country will suffer severely. Many serious and grave dangers threaten.

Theatres and the younger generation should be wary of the aspects that prevail at this time, but both will be subject to new conditions.

Again reactionary tendencies are prophesied and they will arouse the people to the peril of lawless customs.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a quiet, serene year, in which the personal and domestic affairs will be satisfactory.

crops had been ruined and the inhabitants were living on anything they could get.

Another peasant in Samara province wrote that the population in the Stavropol district was living on the small game of the fields, such as marmots. Winter crops had been lost and insects were killing the Spring crops.

"From the Province of Ufa, A. Ivanov, a discharged peasant from the Red Army, described the 14,000 persons in his district as subsisting on elm bark, linden leaves and horse sorrel. Horses were barely standing on their legs for lack of fodder," he wrote, and there were no seed grains.

Conferences.—Riga, Aug. 11.—Conferences between Walter L. Brown and Maxim Litvinoff, relative to relief measures to be taken in Russia, will be resumed here to-morrow, but both men have made it clear to each other that they are not appearing in behalf of their respective Governments. Mr. Brown informed Mr. Litvinoff yesterday that he was representing the American Relief Administration. Mr. Litvinoff presented credentials as the representative of the Russian Famine Committee.

To Decide.—Decision as to whether American relief supplies will be withheld from Russia until all Americans in that country have been released and placed outside the borders of Bolshevik Russia has been left to the State Department in Washington.

The Allied Supreme Council, at a session in Paris yesterday, agreed that a committee should be appointed to study the best means of bringing about Allied co-operation in sending relief to famine-stricken districts of Russia, and it was stipulated that the committee should submit a report be-

There appeared to be a general agreement that the forwarding of supplies to the suffering provinces of Russia need not necessarily involve recognition in any form of the Soviet Government, the question being described by Premier Lloyd George as a "humanitarian, not a political matter."

U. S. PRESIDENT'S FATHER MARRIES

Dr. George Harding Weds Miss Alice Severns

Monroe, Mich., Aug. 11.—Dr. George T. Harding, seventy-six, father of President Harding, was married here to-day to Miss Alice Severns, fifty-two, by the Rev. Frank T. Knowles, pastor of the Monroe Presbyterian Church.

Miss Severns has been a nurse in the office of Dr. Harding at Marion for many years. The couple drove here in an automobile, obtained a marriage license and went to the home of Rev. Knowles, where the ceremony was performed.

CITY MANAGER SYSTEM FAVORED BY REEVE DRAKE

Other Rotarians Agree Present Civic System Needs Reform

Inauguration of a city manager system of civic government to remedy the ills of the present system was urged by Reeve S. J. Drake, of Oak Bay, during the Rotary Club's discussion of civic reform at its luncheon in the Empress Hotel to-day.

"The more I see of civic government," said Mr. Drake, "the more I believe in a managerial system. The men elected to run the affairs of our cities are not trained for the position. They have not the necessary knowledge. When I first joined the Oak Bay Council I knew I did not have any knowledge of municipal affairs."

"The trouble is that our elected men undertake to run a business—usually a very big business—and then they proceed to get their training after they assume control. We need a trained city manager but of course we must remember that the people must have elected representatives, as in their business that is to be run."

"Best Men Not in Office."—"We are all objecting but we are objecting to the wrong men," said Mr. Drake. "The present system of civic government is not far wrong, but the trouble is that we don't get the proper men in office. If the best men in the city would offer themselves for civic office there would not be much wrong with our system."

"That's just it—the best men haven't time for civic office, so we should get a good man and pay him well to run the city," Rotarian Robert Playfair replied.

"The best men run in England and the system works out well," Mr. Deaville answered.

"While we're waiting to make other changes," Mr. Drake, Equilmatt and Sanchich for the Rotary Club, said, "let's copy Oak Bay," Rotarian E. J. Down suggested.

Character Counts.—Rotarian Wood urged that men and women who did not own property but who paid their taxes indirectly by means of rent should be given the full privileges of civic franchise.

"It's not so much the system as the character behind it and I think that we can help things by being real Rotarians," said Rotarian H. Hallwright.

A delightful musical programme in which Miss Eva Hart, Mrs. Grace Bick, Mrs. C. C. Ward, R. R. Webb and James Hunter participated, was a feature of to-day's luncheon.

Rotary Sanitarium.—A fully-equipped sanitarium has been donated to the Port Angeles Rotary Club by a wealthy resident of Lake Crescent, near which the sanitarium is situated. The Port Angeles Rotarians plan to allow other Rotary clubs to use the sanitarium in connection with their boys' work. R. B. Scourrah told the Victoria Club at its luncheon to-day.

Winnipeg Farewell.—Mayor Edward Farnell of Winnipeg, was expected to arrive in Victoria from Vancouver this afternoon to discuss with the provincial and civic authorities the unemployment problems faced by Canadian cities. Mr. Farnell attended the unemployment conference in Vancouver yesterday.

PLAN EXPANSION OF ORIENTAL TRADE

Victoria Importing Firm Incorporated With $150,000 Capital

To make possible large developments in the import and export trade which it has been doing with the Orient, the Dominion Import & Export Company, Ltd., of Victoria, has been incorporated with an authorized capital of $150,000. This incorporation was put through by the legal firm of Macfarlane & Boyle, and is announced in this week's issue of the B. C. Gazette.

Major J. C. F. Hyndman, founder and managing director of the firm, explained to-day that the developments in the company's Oriental trade had made it necessary to increase its capital. Major Hyndman himself has made several trips to Japan and Chinese ports during the last two years to purchase Oriental goods which are brought to Victoria and sold in Canadian ports as far east as Montreal. The goods imported include rugs, silks and curios, large quantities of which have been brought in since the company's organization after the war.

To Go to Orient.—Major Hyndman will make a tour of Japan and Chinese ports again this Winter, leaving Victoria some time in November. As on previous trips he will purchase from Oriental dealers large quantities of their valuable products, which will be shipped across the Pacific during the Winter.

INCORPORATIONS.

Other incorporations announced this week are as follows:
Star Printing Company, Ltd., private, authorized capital $10,000; Vancouver; Western Motors, Ltd., private, authorized capital $15,000; Vancouver; Hong Hop Company, private, authorized capital $10,000; Vancouver; Pacific Oil Company, Ltd. (non-personal liability), public, authorized capital $500,000; Vancouver; Norman Bayview Hotel, Ltd., private, authorized capital $10,000; Vancouver; Day-Smth Motors, Ltd., private, authorized capital $100,000; Vancouver; Taylor & McArthur, Ltd., public, authorized capital $100,000; Vancouver; Wong King, Har Long Company, Ltd., private, authorized capital $5,000; Vancouver.

FORMAL INVITATIONS TO DISARMAMENT MEETING

not give sufficient elasticity to the proceedings. He is said to take the view that when a Premier says definitely what his Government is prepared to do, or not to do, the Minister cannot recede or advance from that position as easily as an ordinary plenipotentiary can.

Count Sforza.—It is possible that Count Sforza, former Italian Foreign Minister, although not now a member of the Government, will be one of Italy's delegates.

The Washington conference has not been mentioned at any time at the sessions of the Supreme Council, and has it any place in the agenda of the Council.

Made Public.—Washington, Aug. 11.—President Harding's formal invitation to the great powers for a conference here beginning November 11, on disarmament and Far Eastern problems was made public to-day by Secretary Hughes.

The text of the communications transmitted to Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan, Belgium, the Netherlands, the United States, and the Soviet Union in the conference place no limitation on the scope of the discussions to be held.

Brief.—Washington, Aug. 11.—The text of the invitation being sent to the Powers to send representatives to the disarmament and Far Eastern conference here in November will not be made public before late in the day, it was announced at the State Department. The invitations are understood to be identical and brief. They are sent directly to the Foreign Affairs and copies have been made by the diplomatic representatives of the Powers here.

November 11.—Preliminary negotiations have made certain the acceptance of the invitations and of agreement to open the conference on Armistice Day, November 11. It is expected that the acceptance will make it clear how many representatives each nation expects to send.

Upon the receipt of this information details of the visitors can be worked out.

Programme.—Further exchanges of opinion on the agenda probably will continue. All thought of preliminary conferences has been abandoned. The final arrangements for the conference, however, probably will be made only after the conference meets.

A Discussion.—Subjects relating to the disarmament negotiations were talked over for an hour to-day by President Harding and Senator Borah, author of the resolution requesting the executive to call a disarmament conference. The meeting was arranged at the President's request.

The question of negotiations for a treaty of commerce and amity with Germany also came into the discussion.

It developed in other quarters that the issuance of formal declaration of peace with Germany might be delayed until the treaty had been signed.

No Progress.—London, Aug. 11.—(Canadian Press Cable.)—Informative news received from a high official source shows that no further progress has been made regarding the Pacific conference. It is proposed to hold at Washington. No communications so far have been received from Washington regarding the agenda, and there is a feeling in British official quarters that the absence from London at this crucial period for any length of time of both the Prime Minister and the Secretary for Foreign Affairs is very regrettable. If there were a guarantee that the conference would deal with practical issues.

Dropped.—It appears that number of suggestions were put forward by Great Britain with a view to facilitating the work of the conference, but these were dropped in deference to an expression of official opinion in the United States, with whom the initiative now rests.

It is understood, however, that whatever date is finally fixed for the conference it will be far enough ahead to permit of Lloyd George having a preliminary consultation with the overseas Prime Ministers. Press reports received from Washington indicate that President Harding finds that the interested powers are agreeable to the opening of the conference on Armistice Day, November 11, but so far no official intimation to this effect has been received in London.

LORD BYNG CENTRAL FIGURE OF CEREMONY IN EASTERN CANADA

ward taking the oath of allegiance to the King and swearing to exercise "well and truly" his office as Governor-General and subscribing his name in the oath book. He was next handed the Great Seal of Canada by Thomas Mulvey, Under-Secretary of State, which, according to custom, he handed back to Mr. Mulvey for safe-keeping.

The proclamation of the Governor-General's swearing-in, ordering the Government of the Dominion to continue, was read and after Lord Byng had signed it, it was sealed with the privy seal. The ceremony ended with the band playing the National Anthem.

The installation ceremonies completed, a salute of nineteen guns from the Citadel shook the building.

Addresses.—After Madame Taschereau had presented a bouquet of flowers to Lady Byng, an address of welcome was made to the Governor-General and Lady Byng by the Mayor of Quebec on behalf of the Province of Quebec and by Mayor Samson on behalf of the city of Quebec, to which Lord Byng replied, referring to his connection with Canadian army during the war and expressing the intention of following in the footsteps of his distinguished predecessors.

Lord Byng and his entourage were then taken to the Citadel for a short rest before returning to the Parliament Buildings to attend a luncheon given in honor of his arrival by the Government. After the luncheon, Premier Meighen proposed the toast of the Governor-General's health in a speech in which he congratulated the Governor-General and Senator Blondin seconded him, speaking in French. The Governor-General responded, a part of his reply being in the French language.

A Tour.—Lord and Lady Byng returned to the Citadel and during the afternoon made a motor tour of points of interest in Quebec.

In the evening they will be guests at a dinner given by Sir Charles Fitzpatrick in his official home, Spencerwick.

Address From Quebec.—Premier Taschereau's address to Lord Byng was as follows:

"Your Excellency:—"Canada has been favored in the sovereign's choice of those to whom his authority here has been delegated."

"Statements of distinction, of wide experience and lofty ideals, imbued with the constitutional principles which govern the Dominion, and its relations with the Mother Country, all have nobly discharged the duties of the past in which your immediate predecessors were a prime of the blood royal and the noblest of the most illustrious of English houses."

Love of Canada.—"To this noble man who has gained our affection by his sincere love of Canada, his constant thought for our educational and charitable works and his anxiety to see that the Dominion is a happy and peaceful one, we have turned in the terrible times of the great war, our eyes were still turned when you arrived."

"We have known you long. Not only were you one of those brilliant general-adjutants of the war, but the decisive victories obtained on the Western front, but you commanded the Canadian army at one of the critical periods of the war and at the hour when our soldiers achieved immortal fame."

"The bonds by which you have secured our attachment, fighting side by side with our soldiers, men of heart and courage, and the privilege to extend you on behalf of the oldest province of the Dominion, and I know well that I voice the sentiments of the whole Canadian people in bidding you a warm welcome."

Increasing Development.—Mayor Samson, in his welcome, referred to the new official predecessors in office.

Mayor Samson said they could assume that the glorious chief who led the Canadian soldiers to victory would govern them successfully and that his term of office would be marked by increased national development.

Replying to Premier Taschereau, Lord Byng said:

"Mr. Prime Minister, Mr. Mayor and Gentlemen:

"I have listened with the greatest pleasure to the kind and warm welcome that you have given me from the province and city of Quebec, and Lady Byng and I thank you most heartily for the great and warm welcome in your province on this occasion. It is necessarily a very brief one, but we are looking forward to visiting Quebec and as much as possible of your historic province at an early date."

"It was a moment of great pride and delight to me when His Majesty the King graciously informed me that he had chosen me to perform the high duties of Governor-General of Canada and I will, I assure you, be most happy to follow in the footsteps of my distinguished predecessors."

Best Wishes.—"You have only recently given a warm, though regretful farewell to my distinguished immediate predecessor, the Duke of Devonshire, who, by his sincere love for Canada, his devotion to duty and his constant thoughts for the welfare of the people of the Dominion, has during the time of the great war and the later period of reconstruction, has left Canada followed by your best wishes for his future career."

First Impressions.—"In first setting foot in your Province and city, I cannot help feeling as His Royal Highness, the Duke of Connaught, did on a similar occasion when he expressed the gratification that his first impressions of the Dominion should be formed in this Province, so rich in its history and traditions and with a population possessing the qualities which make for the greatness of any nation—faith in God, love of the soil and a desire to work

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

(Victoria Daily Times, August 11, 1896.)

The reports brought down by the Danube, which returned to Victoria this morning, are of the same encouraging nature as those received by the same steamer on her previous trip. Most of the canneries are closing now after a most successful season.

Victoria's civic estimates, consideration of which was concluded by the City Council, total $354,290.28. Of this $136,999.26 is for the civic debt, $43,500 for education and $27,500 for streets, bridges and sidewalks.

Reports from all over the United States to-day tell of the death of many people by heat prostration.

London, England: Every dispatch which reaches here bearing on the present political situation in the United States has the effect of further depreciating American securities. To-day the downward movement on the stock exchange was most marked.

in peace for the good of the whole Dominion.

Met Old Friends.—"The heroic sacrifices made by the First Canadian Division at St. Julien in 1915, withstanding the German attack which opened the Second Battle of Ypres, was a fitting prelude to the long series of actions in which they distinguished themselves. The finest enthusiasm was well maintained in the second year of the great war; Canada was able to place an army corps in the field. I have held it a high honor to have commanded and to have got to know and love so many men of that distinguished unit. I look forward most eagerly to renewing old acquaintanceships and old ties throughout the Dominion and have which happy day to meet many old comrades of the war in my first few hours in Canada."

"In the name of my wife, I thank you most sincerely for the very kind welcome which you have given, which she most sincerely appreciates."

Desires Sympathy.—Lord Byng delivered the following speech at the luncheon in reply to the toast to his health:

"The representative of His Majesty in one of the great self-governed Dominions must always feel some trepidation at commencing his duties, especially if he is to follow a long and distinguished line of predecessors, but I venture to hope that I shall receive from all citizens of Canada the same sympathy and confidence that was given so ungrudgingly by those gallant Canadians with whom I had the honor of serving with during the war."

"I do not forget that the people of this province, on account of their origin, speak a language which is not mine. But I shall strive to understand the aspirations and the ideals of this people. It will be my ambition to win the same confidence from the citizens as was given me by your soldiers."

Will Aid Canadians.—Continuing in English, Lord Byng added:

"Gentlemen, I am of thorough British stock and British in all points of view, but underneath that British exterior runs a vein of affection for your Dominion which impels me to strive with all the endeavor at my command and heart which I possess to foster and cherish the aspirations of your great country."

TARIFF DUTY PLAN IN STATES

American Valuation Principle to Be Followed

Washington, Aug. 11.—The American valuation principle for assessing tariff duties in modified form, accepted to-day by the Senate Finance Committee, Chairman Pennington declared, is being worked out details which are to be presented to the committee for ratification later in the day.

Before finally deciding on the question, Republican members of the committee voted to request the Democratic members to leave the committee session, Senator Simmons, the ranking Democrat, informed the Republicans. It was said, that he recognized the move as following precedent established by each party.

LINER LIMPS INTO PORT IN NORWAY DAMAGED

Christiania, April 11.—The Norwegian steamship Bergensford limped into port here to-day from New York, having been damaged by hitting an iceberg while off Cape Race at 2 o'clock in the morning during a dense fog. The iceberg bumped the ship below the waterline and one of the propellers was bent so that the liner was forced to reduce her speed.

AYLMER HOMELESS LIVING IN TENTS

Food Given Quebec Town Fire Victims

One Man Perished; Property Loss $1,250,000

Ottawa, Aug. 11.—(Canadian Press)—Aylmer, Quebec, yesterday picturesquely little town of 7,000 inhabitants on the edge of the Lake Deschene is to-day a scene of grief and desolation. Upward of 200 persons are homeless, with all their belongings destroyed. One man lost his life and property damage now estimated at $1,250,000 was caused by a disastrous fire which broke out in some sheds on the main street and fanned by a strong wind which swept across the lake, destroyed all before it. In some cases the citizens were barely able to escape with their lives. Very few saved any of their belongings, and the efforts of the firemen were unavailing.

Most of the principal buildings in the town were destroyed by the fire, which raged here and there throughout the afternoon and evening. This morning fires are still burning among the heaps of debris throughout the town.

Homeless men, women and children are being housed in tents and in every available building and are being fed by volunteer workers

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Facts About Your Name; Its History; Its Meaning; Whence It Was Derived; Its Significance; Your Lucky Day and Lucky Jewels. By Mildred Marshall. (Copyright, 1921, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

BIANCA.
Few more romantic histories attach to any name than that of the exquisite version of Bianca. Bianca signifies "white"; it comes, of course, from the French blanc representing the absence of color, or opposite of black. The first historical character who bore the name from which Bianca was directly evolved was Bianca of Navarre, the Queen of Sancho IV. of Castile, from whom it was bestowed upon her granddaughter, the child of Eleanor Plantagenet, whom her uncle, King John, employed as the lure by which Philippe Augustus was detached from the support of Arthur of Brittany. The treaty stated that Philippe should wed one of the daughters of Alfonso of Castile; the choice was left to the ambassadors and they, desiring the sound of the name of the elder sister, Urraca, chose Bianca as the bride of Philippe. Bianca, or Blanche, of Castile, as she is recorded in history, was the first and last of the many Queen-Regents of France. Her name became very popular in that country and spread quickly into Italy as Bianca. Though England adopted Bianca also, Bianca soon acquired a vulgar and is now regarded as English rather than Italian. The ruby is Bianca's talismanic gem. It is believed to bring her wearers, good luck, wealth and good health. Monday is Bianca's lucky day and 2 her lucky number.

The Rev. Monseigneur Leterme officiated at the wedding of Frank Hynes and Stella M. Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Bevan Allen, on Tuesday morning at St. Andrew's Cathedral, the bride's dress was white silk with veil and orange blossoms and she carried a beautiful bouquet of pink and white carnations. The sister of the bride, Doris Allen, was dressed in blue tussah silk, with large white georgette hat. Mr. Harman Shandley supported the groom. The happy couple are spending their honeymoon at Strathcona Lodge, Shawanigan Lake.

A quiet wedding took place at the Belmont Methodist Parsonage on Wednesday evening, when Rev. R. Wilkinson officiated in marriage Mr. Wm. D. Tait and Miss Catherine Margery Jenkin, daughter of Mrs. Jenkin, Vining Street. Mr. Tait is a native son of Victoria. The bride was becomingly dressed in a traveling suit of navy blue with hat to match, and carried a bouquet. Miss D. Jenkin was bridesmaid and Mr. James Tait, brother of the groom, was best man. A few immediate friends were present at the ceremony. The young couple left for their honeymoon on the mainland and on their return will reside in Victoria.

Local friends of the bridegroom, who formerly lived in Victoria, will be interested in the following account of a Vancouver wedding: "St. Paul's Church was the scene of a quiet wedding on Tuesday evening, when Miss Frances Jean Congdon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick T. Congdon, Broughton Street, was united in marriage to Mr. James Cunningham Hogg, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hogg, Harwood Street. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked very pretty in a costume of navy blue tulle and embroidered in grey silk and finished with black satin ribbon girdle with fringed ends. The coat opened over a vest of georgette of the same shade as the costume, and she wore a corsage bouquet of pink sweetheart roses. A smart hat of blue georgette, the brim finished with grey ostrich trimming, was worn with this. Grey shoes and stockings and grey fox fur. Mrs. Laurende Clark of New York, sister of the bride, assisted as matron of honor, and was smart in a grey Canton crepe frock, becoming stockings and an exquisite corsage bouquet of mauve sweet peas. Capt. Hogg of the Bank of Montreal, who assisted the bridegroom as best man, served overseas during the war in the 2nd C. M. R. The bride's father is a well-known barrister in the firm of Congdon, Campbell & Merdith, and the groom's father is better known as the superintendent of the Bank of Montreal. Both families have a wide circle of friends. Mr. and Mrs. Hogg left for Banff, where the honeymoon will be spent, and on their return will reside at Denham Court. Only momentary friends were present at the wedding.

Miss Mabel Hickman, who is shortly leaving for England to be married, was the guest of honor at two showers arranged yesterday by fellow-members of the Victoria Dramatic Society of which she is a popular member. In the afternoon, Miss Mabel Butler was the hostess at the home of her sister, Mrs. M. C. Cockshott, 1514 Powl Bay Road, when seventeen guests were present. The many dainty gifts were presented in a huge basket suspended from the ceiling with pink ribbons. Little Miss Geraldine Saunders also presented the bride-elect with a shower bouquet of pink carnations. In the evening Mrs. Fred J. Bell was the hostess at a presentation to the bride in an opera hat. A musical programme including songs by James Hunter, Miss Kitty Palmer, Messrs. Scrivener and Allwood, enhanced the pleasure of the occasion.

The Presbyterian Chinese Mission, 719 Caledonia Avenue, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Monday, August 8, when Rev. M. F. Leung officiated at the marriage of Mr. Louis Poy, of this city, and Miss Alice Mung of Hong Kong. The bride, who was given in marriage by Rev. W. L. Macrae, looked lovely in a beautifully embroidered white silk dress and wearing a red and orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of opelia roses, white sweet peas and maiden-hair fern. Miss Edith Koo, the first bridesmaid, wore a white silk dress and carried a bouquet of carnations and peas. Mr. Lee acted as groomsmen. At 8 p. m. about one hundred guests sat down to a wedding supper in the Mission Hall. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Poy will reside at 2016 Blanshard Street.

FOR CHILDREN

THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TO-NIGHT
Part II.
When the Monster had been flying a very short time, it seemed to the Princess he began to go toward the ground, and the Princess knew they must be near the cave where the Monster lived and where her nurse had often told her she would be carried some day, but instead of being frightened she was very curious to see the home of this strange creature.

The Princess ran up the white coral steps, but when she was inside the door she stopped, for instead of a floor in the hall there was nothing but a sea of water. She did not wonder about this for two beautiful mermaids appeared coming up from under the water, and she saw their arms and hands they formed a seat on which they told the Princess to step and hold on to their heads to keep from falling. They swam to the other side of the big hall and there the Princess saw a door open, and inside of a big rock, high above the water, for the water was the floor of this room, too, was a green and silver dress just like those worn by the mermaids.

"Jump on the rock," said one of the mermaids, "and we will change your dress, for our good Monster wants to take you to the bottom of the ocean." While they were discussing the Princess asked the mermaids if they were the Monster's children. "Oh, no, we are the children of Father Neptune, but we all love the good old Monster, and some of us come here every day and help him." "We have been waiting for you to come," said the other mermaid. "The good old Monster told us you were afraid of him and he was going to prove to you that the stories you were told were very wrong." "He must know a great deal," said the Princess.

"He does," replied the Mermaid. "He knows everything. There, now you are ready, and we must take you back to the good Monster." "Oh, where are my friends?" exclaimed the little Princess as she looked down on herself and saw that she wore the wonderful clinging clothes of green and silver, but her feet were nowhere to be seen. "You will not need your feet on this journey," said the Mermaid with a smile. "Come along, step into the water with us. Now give your other hand to my sister," she said as she took one hand of the Princess, and beamed at her much about her strange costume the Princess was in the water swimming along with a Mermaid on each side.

The Monster was waiting for her right on the top step of the green and coral castle, so the Princess found no trouble in getting on his back, for the Mermaids lifted her in their arms and she settled down on the cushion-like back of the Monster and away they flew.

I.O.D.E. GARDEN FETE AT "MOUNTJOY"

The Navy League Chapter Sponsors of Delightful Affair Yesterday
In the beautiful setting of the lovely old gardens at "Mountjoy," the residence of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Pemberton, the Navy League Chapter, I. O. D. E., yesterday afternoon held their garden fete in aid of the funds of the Boys' Naval Brigade, raising about $200 for this excellent purpose.

Mrs. W. C. Nichol, who declared the fete open, was received on arrival by Mrs. E. O. Weston, regent of the Navy League Chapter, Mrs. Curtis Sampson, Municipal regent, and Lieut. W. N. Hotham, of the Boys' Naval Brigade. Business at the various stalls was brisk and the many attractive wares were quickly disposed of. An attractive feature was the musical programme by the Naval Brigade band.

The many visitors took an evident delight in wandering through the beautiful grounds. The lavish profusion of flowers is almost bewildering in its riot of color, while the rock garden and the lily-padded pond vie with the main gardens in their charming appeal.

The winners of the various contests were as follows: Clock golf—First prize, Mr. H. J. Davis, who won an umbrella, presented by David Spencer & Co.; and the ladies' first prize won by Mrs. A. J. Sanders, a writing case presented by the Victoria Book and Stationery. The guessing contest was won by Mrs. E. O. Weston, the prize being two and a half pounds of chocolates presented by Ormonds Manufacturing Co. Miss A. B. Cooke, Municipal Education Secretary, I. O. D. E., won the highest prize, a silver doll, having successfully guessed the doll's name to be Kathleen.

GOLDEN WEDDING WAS CELEBRATED
Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Scowcroft Recipients of Many Congratulations
Fifty years of happy married life reached their culmination yesterday in the golden wedding celebrations of Mr. and Mrs. William Scowcroft, well-known and highly esteemed residents of this city, who received a host of congratulations at their home, 1834 Queen's Avenue. Surrounded by their five daughters and six grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Scowcroft embodied the quintessence of marital happiness as they received a bouquet of Ophelia roses and sweet peas and roses.

Delicious refreshments were served in the dining-room which was beautifully arranged with dahlias, roses and sweet peas, while the table with its three-tier wedding cake, was adorned with baskets of white carnations and golden coreopsis tied with yellow ribbon.

Among the host of gifts and congratulatory messages were two addressed to the Committee of the Protestant Orphan Home, of which Mr. Scowcroft has been an active member for the past twenty-six years. In appreciation of her valued services the committee a presentation was made yesterday afternoon of a handsome gold bar pin, with single amethyst, and suitably engraved by the committee, a presentation was made by friends of the First Congregational Church, referring in the highest terms to the enthusiasm and golden accomplishment by them, and terming them "among the founders of the church." This presentation was made by the Rev. W. D. Spence.

THE PRINCESS AND THE MONSTER

Part II.

POPULAR NURSE WED AT HOME CEREMONY

A popular graduate of St. Joseph's Hospital, Miss Edna Ellen Dorrell, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Dorrell, of this city, was united in marriage to Mr. Frederick Charles Kent of Moose Jaw at a pretty wedding at high noon yesterday. The Rev. Dr. Clay performed the ceremony in the drawing-room at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dorrell, 110 Eberts Street.

The bride who entered to the strains of the wedding march, played by Mrs. Moore, was charming in ivory tulle with veil and coronet of orange blossoms and carrying a bouquet of Ophelia roses and sweet peas. Little Miss Jean Campbell, her only attendant, was in pink georgette and carried a basket of sweet peas. During the signing of the register, Miss Helen Johnston sang two solos.

Following the service a buffet luncheon was served in the dining-room, which was very artistically decorated with pink and mauve sweet peas and streamers of tulle.

Joseph Rickson, an adept at half-breed Indian parts, appears in many scenes with Henry Walthall and Pauline Starke in "Flower of the North," the James Oliver Curwood special which David Smith is directing for Vitagraph. EXIT BETTY

By
Grace Livingston Hill
(Mrs. Lutz)

Author of "The Search," "Marcia Schuyler," "The Enchanted Barn," etc.

With embellishments Herbert Hutton asked if Bi had ever seen the two tall gray-haired men who were walking with their prey.
Bi frowned his eyes and denied any knowledge, but perceived there were more sides than two to the enigma. Now, what could he figure out of those two guys? Were there more rewards to be offered? If so, he was a candidate. He wondered what chance there was of getting away from H. H. and sauntering through the train. He found, however, a sudden willingness on the part of his companion to vanish and let him do the secret work for the rest of the night.

With a sense of being on a vacation and a chance at catching big Bi swung out through the train. Bumping down among the now curtained berths, adjusting his long form to the motion of the express, he lurched to right and to left as they went round a curve, falling over an occasional pair of shoes and bringing down lofty reproaches from the sleepy motor, he penetrated to the day coaches and at last located his quarry.

They were sitting in a double seat, the younger man facing the two older ones, and had evidently been unable to get sleepers. Bi hung around the water-cooler at the far end of the car until he had laid out his plans; then he sauntered up to the vacant seat behind the three men and dropped noiselessly into its depths, drawing his hat down well over his face, and apparently falling into instant slumber, with a fair sample of Tinsdale snoring brought in at moderate distances.

The conversation was earnest, in well-modulated voices, and hard to follow connectedly, for the men knew how to talk without seeming to be bored. "I would be saying anything but 'once at her father's second marriage, and again at his funeral. Then we only saw her at a distance. Her stopmother said she was too grief-stricken to speak with any one, and it was by the utmost effort she could be present at the service.'"

"She looked very frail and young," said the other old man; "and her hair—I remember her hair!" Bi changed his position cautiously and tried to peer over the back of his seat, but the voices were crowded together now, and the younger man was talking earnestly. He could not catch a syllable. "Trustee!" That word stayed with him. "Estate" was another promising one, and the fact that her hair had been remembered. He nodded his head sagaciously, and later when the three men settled back in their seats more comfortably with their eyes closed he slid back to the water cooler and so on through the sleeper to the drawing room.

Hutton was sleeping the sleep of the unjust, which means that he woke at the slightest breath, and Bi's breath was something to wake a heavier sleeper. So they sat and planned as the train rushed on through the night. Now and again Bi took a pilgrimage up to the day coach and back to report the three travelers still asleep.

About six o'clock in the morning the train slowed down and finally came to a crashing halt, waking the sleepers uncomforably and making them conscious of crunching feet in the cinders outside, and consulting voices of trainmen busy with a hamper underneath the car somewhere. Then they drowsed off to sleep again and the voices and hammering blended comfortably into their dreams.

The passengers in the day coach roused at their watches, stretched their cramped limbs, squinted out to see if anything serious was the matter and settled into a new position to sleep once more.

Bi, stretched for the nonce upon the long couch of the drawing room while his superior occupied the more comfortable berth, roused to instant action, slipped out to the platform and took his bearings. He had lived in that part of the country all his life and he knew where they ought to be by that time. Yes, there was the old sawmill down by Hague's Crossing, and the steeple over by the soft maple grove just beyond Fox Glove. It would not be a long walk, and they had a garage at Fox Glove!

He sauntered along the cinder path; discovered that the trouble with the engine was somewhat serious, and apparently falling into instant slumber, with a fair sample of Tinsdale snoring brought in at moderate distances.

His entrance roused the sleeper, who was on the alert instantly. "Say, we got a hot box on a broken engine!" Bi announced. "I'll take us some time. We ain't far from Fox Glove. We could saunter over an' git a car an' beat 'em to it!"

"We could!" said Hutton. "You sure? No chances, mind you?" "Do it easy. Those guys are asleep. They won't get to the Junction fore ten o'clock, maybe later; they can't possibly get to our place fore eleven."

"Lead the way!" ordered Hutton, cramming himself into his coat and hat.

"Better slide down on the other side," whispered Bi as they reached the platform. "We kin go back round the train an' nobody'll notice."

As if they were only come out to see what was the matter they idled along the length of the train around out of sight, slid down the bank, took a short cut across a meadow to a road, and were soon well on their way to Fox Glove in the early cool of the Spring morning, a strangely mated couple bent on mischief.

Back on the cinder track the express waited indifferently with a flagman ahead and behind to guard its safety, and while men slept the enemy took wings and flew down the white morning road to Tinsdale, but no one ran ahead with a little red flag to the gray cottage where slept Betty, to warn her, though perchance an angel with a flaming sword stood invisibly to guard the way.

MOTOR CLUB RUN TO BRENTWOOD HELD YESTERDAY

The second of the club runs held by the Victoria Automobile Club was taken to Brentwood yesterday. Owning to the big attraction of the races there were not as many members present as might have been expected but an enjoyable time was spent nevertheless.

Mrs. Hiscock, manageress of the Brentwood Hotel, made special arrangements for the entertainment of the club members and all were impressed with her capabilities as a hostess. On the way to Brentwood the members visited Butchart's gardens.

WHY NOT MORE DUET PLAYING.
Rather difficult of explanation it is, how seldom one hears piano duets played these days. The reason is not found in the scarcity of material for there are available dozens of attractive four-hand compositions. Nor is it that the duet is too difficult a form of music, for one can secure duets in all grades of difficulty for any pupils from the smallest tots to the most advanced. Just what the reason is, is hard to say. Piano duets reasonably well played readily find appreciative listeners.

TWO VICTORIANS ARE INVITED Unitarian Laymen's League to Meet in Rhode Island

Henry C. Hall, a member of the Council of the Unitarian Laymen's League, and J. W. Bolden, president of the Victoria Chapter, have been invited to attend a convention of the officers, council, and presidents of the 212 Chapters of the League, to be held at Narragansett Pier, R. I., on September 16, 17 and 18.

The convention is announced as one having no precedent in the history of religious, professional or industrial organizations, because "only a combination of all three could approximate the purpose and possibilities of this Laymen's League Convention." Only laymen are invited, but the business of the meeting is the business of generating greater power in Unitarian churches everywhere so that they may increase their contribution to the religious and community welfare in the centres which they serve.

Church Attendance.
One of the most important subjects to be considered at Narragansett Pier is that of church attendance. This is considered by the officers and council of the League as the source from which must come the inspiration and enthusiasm which will make possible the achievement of the other important features of its comprehensive programme.

Other subjects include the recruiting of the ministry, the standardization of methods of raising and expending church funds; church visitation; the obligation of the church to community service and the foreign-born; the need for more scientific operation of Sunday schools; and the continuation of this work among boys and girls to include students in college and university centres.

The convention will begin with a meeting of the council, to be followed by sessions at which various methods which have been tried successfully will be described to the delegates by the presidents of chapters which have been conspicuously successful along specific lines of activity.

Is Young Society.
The League is now in its third year. Thus far it has taken the lead in the canvass which has produced nearly $2,500,000 for general denominational purposes; has conducted two Summer schools for more than 250 ministers and a Sunday school institute for a large body of laymen; has so greatly stimulated church attendance in isolated instances that a nation-wide campaign is now being outlined; has held numerous public meetings in all parts of the country to present the interpretation of religion and patriotism by emphasizing the sacredness of citizenship; and by the printed word has carried the same message to hundreds of thousands of others beyond the hearing of the spoken word.

Prominent Leaders.
Charles H. Strong, a New York attorney, is president of the League. The vice-presidents are: Clifford G. Adams, of Brookline, Mass.; Robert L. Cox, of Montclair, N. J.; Abbot A. Hanks, of San Francisco; and Dr. W. Burton Zimmers, of Houston, Texas. The council includes William H. Taft, Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court; Arthur P. Ruge, Chief Justice, one-time Massachusetts Supreme Court; Senator Morton D. Hull, of Chicago; and William T. Reid, Jr., Harvard football and baseball star of twenty years ago.

SAYS EVERY BONE IN HER BODY HURT

After Suffering From Rheumatism for Years Regina Woman Finds Complete Relief

"If I talked from now to the end of my days I couldn't say half the good things I think Tanlac deserves," said Mrs. Albert Barton, 1939 Osler St., Regina, Sask.
"I had stomach trouble in a bad form and nobody knows how I suffered for years. Nothing I ate agreed with me, and then, to make matters worse, I was taken down with rheumatic fever and lay in a hospital for eight weeks. Even after I was able to get up every bone in my body ached, and my limbs were so swollen I had to wear bandages."
"This was the condition I was in when I began taking Tanlac. It was the biggest surprise of my life the way this medicine brought me improved digestion, and completely rid me of the rheumatism. I feel like a different person now, and as long as I live I will never forget what Tanlac did for me."

Tanlac is sold in Victoria by Duncan E. Campbell and leading druggists everywhere. (Adv.)

WONDERFUL CROP OF BERRIES IN TERRACE DISTRICT

One of the heaviest crops of wild fruit seen for many years is in evidence everywhere in the neighbourhood of Terrace this Summer, says The Prince Rupert News. The raspberries are so prolific and of such size that the canes are weighed to the ground. They are growing far more everywhere, and housewives of the town are able to go out in the afternoons on the edge of the townsite and along the railway tracks and find all they can pick. Nearly every household is boasting of having from fifty to one hundred quarts of wild raspberries.

The wee blueberries were originated for the descendants of Job, the patient man, for in order to make much of a showing in gathering this berry one must lie on the ground flat and hunt them out from beneath their short vines. Blueberries are very plentiful on the mountain slopes in certain places, and the favorite way of gathering them is to make a wire scoop and scoop 'em up.

Neal Has Full Card But Only One First

Crack Jockey Got Five of His Ponies Inside Money Yesterday at Willows; Hurn, Smallest Rider Here, Performs in Sensational Style On Stanley H.; Favorites Had Another Good Day.

Jockey Neal's services are becoming more and more in demand. His consistency and brilliant horsemanship has made him the big favorite of the Willows meet and yesterday he found a mount in each race. This is the first time since the ponies started running at the Willows that a jockey has made the trip around in the seven races. Neal's luck was not quite as good as on previous days, but he got in the money five times. He rode one winner, got the place money twice and rode two other horses to show.

Neal is away out in front in winnings in the Willows meet. His work in the saddle has eclipsed that of young Rowe, who was the star rider of last year's meet. Neal has a large following of bettors who back his ponies every time out. With other riders up the horses would not draw so many backers.

Favorites' Day Again

Yesterday's racing was again favorable to the favorites, who ran pretty true to form. One of the largest crowds of the meet was in attendance and the betting was very heavy.

The outstanding performance of the afternoon was the work of Clear Lake, with Lowe up. In the fifth race this mare led a chasey field over five furlongs and established a new track record. Clear Lake showed a clean pair of heels to the rest of the field, and although hard pressed in the last few lengths by Carl Roberts, was able to make the wire a good winner. The mare completed the five furlongs in two-fifths of a second better than the former record.

A Game Little Rider

Jockey Hurn, the smallest rider on the track, was given a big hand by the fans when he returned to the judges' stand on Stanley H. after the fourth race. The horse was the strongest favorite of the afternoon, and had proved an easy winner the previous afternoon. His backers received a shock when he began to behave badly at the post and finally threw his rider. Hurn pluckily remounted, and when the barrier flew up rushed Stanley H. to the front and made every step a winner. Hurn gave the horse a splendid ride, and he was rewarded by the biggest ovation tendered a jockey this week on returning to weigh in.

Some of the Good Ones

Maid of Ansel was one of two winners that paid substantial returns to the public. Jockey Lassie, with Neal up, was favored to win, but she was not strong enough to catch Lela, and although finishing with a wonderful burst of speed, failed to overtake Maid of Ansel. This maid paid $12.75 for straight. Lela started as a fifty to one shot and finished in second place and repaid his few fanciers $27.90. Bontie, the favorite, was given a good ride by Neal and came through with flying colors with Figaro coming up strongly and Ella Waldo, a previous winner, in third place.

The Best Payor

Lola got down in front in the sixth race, the mile and 70 yards. Bill Sparks was the public choice, but Neal could not make the distance at the finish. Lela got away with a jump, and although Sparks hung on in second place all the way and was expected to come with a rush at the close, he was not strong enough to catch Lola. The mare paid the biggest straight money of the afternoon, $16.15.

Cafeteria proved a sure winner in the last race, trailing Ethel over the greater part of the distance and slipping into the lead at the turn into the stretch.

Utelus ran to form in the second race and was never in trouble. Lohelia, second choice, was second and Jim Swain ended Pittsburgh out of the show money.

WITHIN THE ROPES

New York, Aug. 11.—Charlie White, of Chicago, and Johnny Dundee, of New York, went ten rounds to a draw in the open-air arena last night. Both are lightweight.

Paul Doyle, claimant of the New England welterweight title, was given the judges' decision over Marty Cross, of New York.

Johnny Buff, claimant of the American flyweight championship, received the judges' decision over Charlie Ledoux, French bantamweight, at the end of the thirteenth round, but the crowd expressed its disapproval of the verdict. Buff was knocked down in the third and fourth rounds by lefts to the chin.

Midget Smith, of New York, was given the judges' decision over Young Montreal, of Providence, at the end of their ten-round bout. They are bantamweights.

Boston, Aug. 11.—Martin Kilian, manager of Johnny Wilson, announced last night that Wilson has been matched by Rickard to meet Bryan Downey in a twelve-round, no-decision bout at Jersey City on Labor Day.

Wilson will receive 25 per cent. of the gate receipts and Downey 25 per cent. Both men are to weigh 160 pounds at ten o'clock in the morning. They will enter the ring at 4 p. m.

SALE OF OLD IRVING HOME IS COMPLETED

The old home of Captain John Irving, at the corner of Menzies and Michigan Streets, has been sold to H. P. Bagley, who arrived in Victoria a short time ago. The deal, which was negotiated by P. R. Brown & Sons, involves about $10,000. The Irving home, surrounded by two acres of garden, is regarded as one of the choicest pieces of property in the James Bay district. The house was built some thirty years ago, when Capt. Irving was associated with the Canadian Pacific Navigation Company. During the war the home was used as a military hospital.

Bagley bought the property as a speculation, and it is probable he will have the building re-modelled to serve as an apartment house for a time.

YANKEES BACK IN LEAD ONCE AGAIN

Victory Over White Sox Puts Them Ahead of Cleveland; Pirates' Lost Another

New York, Aug. 11.—The New York Yankees returned to the lead in the American League by one point yesterday by defeating Chicago in the last game of the series, 14 to 3. The victory enables New York to win its first series from the seventh place Chicago team this year. The game was featured by home-run hitting of Baker and Ruth. Baker hit two home runs, and Ruth one, his forty-second of the year. Collins won his sixth straight victory for New York.

The homer made off Hodge put Ruth four days ahead of his 1920 record, when he made his forty-second homer off Shaw, of Washington, on August 14. The Yankees' slugger has fifty-two games in which to make thirteen home runs in order to surpass last year's record. If he continues hitting at his present rate he should obtain about sixty-three home runs for the season.

Patton's Boot Gives Beavers A Long Game

Capitals Lost Thrilling Twelve-Inning Tussle; Game From Behind and Tied Up Game In Ninth, But Count Went to Rachac; Beavers Slaughtered In Evening Game; Bankhead Hit Two Homers In Succession.

First Game—Vancouver, 4; Victoria, 3.
Second Game—Victoria, 14; Vancouver, 1.

Patton's wild peg to second in the twelfth inning of yesterday afternoon's game allowed Anfinson to cross the plate with the run which gave the Beavers one of the hottest ball games seen here this season. Church hit a soft roller to short and with two done no trouble was expected. Patton made the play to catch Solomon, who was going to second. The throw was bad and before Shoos could recover the ball in the outfield Anfinson had trotted home from third. Victoria tried hard to recover the run in their half of the inning but failed.

Max Rachac, the five-thousand dollar noise of the Vancouver pitching staff, who next year will be a member of the New York Giants, went the whole distance and in the first seven innings had the Capitals as tame as a bunch of lap-dogs. He was particularly effective with his fast ball. His team-mates gave him a good lead to work on, but in the eighth and ninth, however, he was confronted with some stout and fast work by the Capital batters and the game was tied up. There seemed little difference between the teams in the extra innings until the miscue in the twelfth when the battle was decided.

Hansen Was Good.
Johnnie Washington pitched a peculiar brand of ball for the Capitals. The Beavers hit him in every inning but they were not able to score very freely. Washington was very effective with men on bases. In the eighth Washington retired to allow Manager Hansen to bat for him. Hansen struck the last four innings and had the best of Rachac. In the eleventh Hansen struck out the three batters. He yielded but two hits. Despite his brilliant work Hansen is credited with the loss.

Victoria drove over a run in the first inning. Handley scoring on his single, a stolen base and Shoos' cut to left field.

The Beavers evened things up in the third when Wingo hit home on Boelzie's hit. Vancouver scored again in the fourth, when Washington walked Wilson with the bases full, forcing Boelzie to pitch. Boelzie fumbled Wilson's drive in centre field.

Hansen Hits Homer.
Manager Hansen got a bunch in the eighth and decided to replace Washington at bat. Rachac whizzed over a fast one; it was high and Hans promptly gave it a long ride over the right field wall. Rachac tightened up like a glue-pot and no one else could do anything with his pitching.

With the score one against them the Capitals went to bat in the ninth and determined to win the game. Shoos drove a pass and Engle spotted him a bag with a sacrifice. Rego's cut put Shoos on third and Brindza opened for him. Shoos hit a home run and then did a hand-stand to the outfield and Mose Solomon, the first-sacker, finished the game. Mose was the most effective of the Capitals, and the Capitals advanced another inning and the Capitals led.

Some Hitters.
In the evening game the Capitals looked like a million-dollar slugger aggregation. They hit everything and anything just as they pleased. Brindza opened for the Beavers but after two innings went back to his pond. Mitten was the next victim led to the massacre. He stood up for a couple of innings and then did a hand-stand to the outfield and Mose Solomon, the first-sacker, finished the game. Mose was the most effective of the Capitals, and the Capitals advanced another inning and the Capitals led.

Wallace Was Good.
Big Bob Wallace turned in one of his good games. He hit the Beavers down with six hits and a homerun by Solomon in the seventh saved the visitors from a shut-out. Wallace had his fast underhand ball breaking nicely just above the knee and the Beavers could do nothing with it.

The Capitals started to hit Brindza in the first inning but a double play by Jimmy Church, who ran down Rego's hit, turned it into a succession, snuffed out the rally.

In the second Bankhead led off with a homer and Shoos' single followed by Engle's sacrifice and Rego's hit turned it into another run. Bankhead's second four-base blow in the third with two men on bases convinced Brindza that he had nothing. Engle threw a scare into Brindza by greeting him with a terrific wallop that cleared the wall. This was Engle's first home run at the Stadium.

The Caps kept hitting and getting runs, finishing up with two in the eighth.

Handley Is Better.
The Capitals played fast ball yesterday and some of the fielding was exceptionally good. Handley is showing a good improvement around third base, acting quickly and smothering a lot of drives that formerly got by him.

The teams play again this evening at 6:30 o'clock. This is Ladies' Day. The box score follows:

ONLY ONE BRITISHER REACHES SEMI-FINALS

Seabright, N.J., Aug. 11.—Maxwell Woosnam, captain of the British lawn tennis team, was the lone Briton to gain a place in the semi-final round of the Seabright Cup to-day. The other semi-finalists are R. Norris Williams, Boston; William M. Johnston, San Francisco, and Vincent Richards, of New York.

Woosnam defeated Robert Kinky, San Francisco, in straight sets, 6-2, 6-1.

Williams conquered the British veteran P. G. Lowe, by a net attack. The score was 6-2, 6-4.

The surprising feature of the doubles was the defeat of Woosnam and Turnbull, the British Isles pair, by D. P. Davis, St. Louis, donor of the International Cup, with his old partner, Holcomb Ward, New York.

The United States pair, who held the national championship and defeated the Davis Cup twenty years ago, beat the young Britons, 6-2, 6-4.

ORDER ISSUED IN BO CHARGE

Argument in Habeas Corpus Application Set for Thursday

R. C. Lowe, on behalf of Charlie Bo, merchant tailor of Chinatown, now on $2,000 bail to appear at the Fall Assizes, obtained an order nisi in the Supreme Court Chambers today, returnable Thursday to compel the Crown to show cause why a writ of habeas corpus should not be executed in this respect.

J. S. Brandon, crown counsel assented, and the order was granted by Mr. Justice Macdonald.

In effect the order nisi granted will have the effect of testing the evidence against Charlie Bo, now committed for trial on a charge of attempting to bribe Chief of Police John Fry.

The hearing will be called in Supreme Court Chambers on Thursday next when the Crown will have to show cause for the holding of Charlie Bo to appear at the next Assizes. The order was taken on the ground that there was a lack of evidence to sustain the jurisdiction of the lower court to send Charlie Bo up for trial before a jury.

In the event of the failure of the Crown to produce sufficient evidence at the hearing of the application for habeas corpus on Thursday next Charlie Bo would be granted a writ of habeas corpus and released from bail.

In conjunction with the non-feasance charges against Commissioner Dr. Hall and Joseph North, the evidence alleged to be held by the Crown in the Charlie Bo case will be brought up sooner than was expected.

BOWSER DENIES P.G.E. BOYCOTT

Says No Conservative Arrangement on Railway Trip

No definite arrangement has been made among Conservative members of the Legislature to boycott the Pacific Great Eastern Railway excursion planned by Premier Oliver and other directors of the line, W. J. Bowser, K. C., leader of the Opposition, declared to-day. Mr. Bowser himself will not take part in the tour but, he asserted that he did not know whether his Opposition colleagues would make the trip or not.

"I am not going myself but I don't know whether the other Conservative members are going or not," Mr. Bowser stated on his return to Victoria from the Mainland this morning. "My plan not to make the trip is only my own idea."

Asked if it had been arranged among the Opposition forces that Conservative members should not join the excursion, Mr. Bowser denied emphatically that any such agreement had been reached.

Two Conservative members of the Legislature besides Mr. Bowser having declined Premier Oliver's invitation to join the excursion, it was thought at the Parliament Buildings to-day that the Opposition generally had agreed to take this course. Mr. Bowser's statement this morning, however, is a direct contradiction to this supposition.

Canon Hinchliffe, Conservative member for Victoria, wrote to Premier Oliver to-day and said that an engagement previously accepted made it impossible for him to join the excursion. J. H. Schofield, Conservative member for Trail, also wrote Mr. Oliver stating that he could not make the trip.

MAYNARD'S STAFF HOLDS PICNIC

Successful Gathering Was Held Yesterday

This year's picnic of the Maynard's shoe store staff, which was held at Mr. Maynard's Farm, Elk Lake, eclipsed all previous picnics, being run on a larger scale. A fine programme of sports was supplied, including some novelty events. Maynard's 100 yards championship cup, which must be won for two consecutive years for permanent ownership, drew a large number of entries and a fine race followed between N. Redman and F. Richards, who made record time in the dash. F. Richards took the lead in this race, but in a fine spurt N. Redman closed the space between them, coming in a close second with a margin of four feet. F. Richards thus claiming the cup for one year. The tug-of-war caused considerable amusement among the spectators in the way Mr. Maynard's team pulled. V. Wilkinson's team giving a hard pull before victory was claimed by their opponents. A baseball game was also staged in a spacious field, and provided some interesting play. The batteries for both sides were up to the mark and supplied a good game. The social side of the programme was well arranged under the capable hands of Miss Oddy, who looked after the refreshments and other social events. Music and dancing ended the evening. Pomeroy's orchestra being in attendance. The result of the sports are as follows:

Boys' 50-yard race—1st, A. Maynard; 2nd, A. Etherington; 3rd, W. Maynard, Jr.

Girls' race, 50 yards—1st, E. Hodgson; 2nd, E. Maynard; 3rd, Open race, 100 yards, for cup—1st, F. Richards; 2nd, N. Redman; 3rd, W. Maynard, Jr.

Ladies' and Men's needle race—1st, Mr. and Mrs. E. Maynard; 2nd, W. Wiggs and I. Griffin; 3rd, Miss E. Maynard and W. Maynard, Jr.

Potato race—1st, W. Maynard, Jr.; 2nd, C. Pomeroy; 3rd, W. Wiggs.

Nail-driving contest—1st, F. Wright; 2nd, E. Maynard; 3rd, E. Etherington.

Ball throwing, for ladies—1st, Miss O. Mashin; 2nd, Miss Iris Griffin; 3rd, Mrs. McGill; 4th, Mrs. Tyrrell; 5th, Miss Oddy.

POWERFUL WIRELESS PLANT FOR ESTEVAN

New Power Station and Equipment Will Give Normal Radius of 2,000 Miles

Normal wireless range of the Estevan station will be increased to approximately 2,000 miles with the completion of the powerful new plant at Estevan Point, states E. J. Haughton, superintendent of the British Columbia wireless stations, who has just returned from an inspection of the coast radio facilities in company with G. J. Desbarats, Deputy Minister of Naval Affairs. The new wireless plant, which is being constructed on the site of the old station, will be a 25-kilowatt station, as compared with the existing 5-kilowatt plant. Preliminary work in connection with the clearing of the land for the erection of the new wireless powerhouse, was begun last May, and good progress is being maintained, according to Superintendent Haughton. The new plant will in all probability be in operation by the latter part of the year.

The lighthouse tender Estevan is leaving port this week with material for the new wireless plant.

A second powerful wireless station will be built near Vancouver for land work and to communicate with distant coast stations.

New Undertakings.

Vancouver, Aug. 11.—G. J. Desbarats, Deputy Minister of Naval Affairs, who has just been on a tour of northern coastal waters on the D. G. S. Malaspina, announces that his Department has in view the installation of a very powerful wireless station near Vancouver to undertake land work, and to communicate with more distant stations up the coast.

"If this plan is carried out," said Mr. Desbarats, "there would also be a more powerful station at Prince Rupert and this would allow Prince Rupert to work direct with Vancouver. At present they have to do it by way of Alert Bay or Bull Harbor, by working direct there would be a great saving of time."

"The new Vancouver station," he added, "would be located several miles from Point Grey, so that there would be no interference. We are now working on the matter of location, and are experimenting to see how near the other station we can go without interfering. When the new station is erected Point Grey will handle shipping business only."

Mr. Desbarats said that the latest innovation in wireless was the introduction of the continuous wave system, which was a great improvement on the one now in use. Two instruments have been secured from the British Admiralty, and these are being installed at Point Grey and Alert Bay. Another one may be placed at Prince Rupert. While this method is a great improvement over the old one, the one on which the British Admiralty is pinning its faith is a valve system, but so far the valves cannot be manufactured commercially, as their life is too short. They are too fragile. Experiments are now being undertaken with the idea of improving them and it is probably the best method of the future.

EXPRESS COMPANIES TO BE CONSOLIDATED

Canadian Express and Canadian National to Come Under One Management

A further step in the co-ordination of the services of the Canadian National and Grand Trunk Railways under Government auspices is announced. A circular signed jointly by D. B. Hanna, chairman of the board of directors, Canadian National Express Company and by Howard G. Kelley, chairman of the board of directors of the Canadian Express Company, says:

"Effective September 1, 1921, the operations of the Canadian Express Company and the Canadian National Express Company will become consolidated and the combined business will be continued thereafter under the name of the Canadian National Express Company, and W. C. Muir, heretofore president of the Canadian National Express Company, will be president of the Canadian National Express Company, and W. C. Muir, heretofore general manager of the Canadian National Express Company, will be vice-president and general manager."

News of the consolidation of the operations of the two express companies will be received with interest by the commercial community. The Canadian National Express Company in its new form will operate over 22,000 miles of railway extending across the continent from St. John, Halifax and Sydney, on the Atlantic, to Vancouver and Prince Rupert on the Pacific, and will have in addition an extensive organization in Europe. The two express companies, operating as units, had a combined annual gross revenue in excess of $12,000,000 and did business with the public through nearly 3,500 established agencies. That the consolidation will mean increased facilities for the public in the conveyance of goods by express is the view of the management.

Larger Car Supply.

"The advantage to the public of this unified express service will be found in the larger car supply of the combined railways," said John Pullen, who has been named as president of the Canadian National Express Company. "The care of various types, such as ventilated cars, refrigerator cars, horse stable cars and steam-heated cars for winter service, can be more readily obtained, as they can be used interchangeably throughout the national system of railways. Furthermore, the vehicle service in the cities and larger towns being consolidated, renders it possible to respond more readily to calls from the public. There is also being worked out a consolidation of local offices in the various cities under a single direction, thus making it possible to add to the public convenience and avoid duplication.

"Between the large centres such as Montreal and Toronto," continued Mr. Pullen, "exclusive special express trains will continue to be operated, the arrival and departure times being so arranged as to allow of forwarding packages as late in the day as possible with delivery to consignees early on the following morning.

He began his career in the transportation field as an office boy with the Grand Trunk Railway System at Sherbrooke in 1877. He became secretary to the traffic manager of the Chicago and North Western Railway at Chicago in 1881, agent of the West Shore-East Freight Line (operated by the Grand Trunk System) in 1889, division freight agent of the Grand Trunk at Stratford, Ont., in 1896 and division freight agent at Hamilton in the following year. After experience as general freight agent of the Central Vermont Railway he was appointed general freight agent of the Grand Trunk Railway System, with headquarters at Montreal in 1900, and was promoted to be assistant freight traffic manager of the road in 1903. Mr. Pullen was appointed President of the Canadian National Express Company in 1911, a position which he held until the present consolidation of the express companies' operations. Mr. Pullen has been Chairman of the Express Traffic Association of Canada since 1918.

Fish Traffic.

The new company will continue to give special attention to the development of the heavy fish traffic from the Atlantic and the Pacific coasts and the inland lakes, as well as the heavy fruit traffic of Ontario and British Columbia, and to the movement of certain farm products, articles of value, etc., for which the express service is specially adapted. There will also be carried on, as in the past, such financial operations as the issuance of express money orders, travellers' cheques, telegraphic transfers, etc. Every officer and employee of the extensive system of national railways can be depended upon to co-operate heartily with the specially trained employees of the Express Company to render to the public a safe and expeditious express service."

Work For All.

Asked if this consolidation would be likely to result in a reduction in forces and loss of position by old employees, the management expressed the opinion that there would be ample work for all the worthy and experienced employees of both companies.

Heroes of Rescue Due Here To-night

Steamer Anyox, Which Saved 167 Passengers From Wrecked S.S. Alaska Off Blunt's Reef, Is Nearing This Port From Scene of Disaster.

Capt. S. Snoddy, hero of the S.S. Alaska disaster, is expected to reach Victoria to-night in command of the rescue ship Anyox. The Anyox was 200 miles south of the Cape last night and it is reported that she is coming to this port with a shipment of asphalt from San Francisco.

The Anyox was the first vessel to pick up the distress signal from the doomed Alaska after she struck on Blunt's Reef last Saturday in a dense fog.

Rushed To Rescue.

The Anyox was off Cape Mendocino, and, without hesitation, Capt. Snoddy headed his ship in the direction of the stricken vessel.

This act was the means of saving 167 of the passengers on the Alaska. The heroes of the rescue were: Capt. S. Snoddy, a Vancouver man, and Second Officer Andrew Sinclair. The wireless call picked up by the Anyox said: "We are sinking," and then all was silent.

The fog was dense, and the Anyox had the barge Henry Hild in tow, but this did not deter Capt. Snoddy, who took desperate chances in getting alongside the wrecked ship. Firing rockets to encourage the passengers which the crew of the Anyox knew must be in dire straits, the Anyox arrived on the scene about 10 p. m. and met the first boatload of survivors, half-filled, and with the occupants covered with oil from the Alaska's tanks. This party was safely taken aboard the Anyox.

Sinclair's Act.
Hearing calls for help coming from the darkness and fog, Second Officer A. Sinclair, of the Anyox, asked for permission to take an almost swamped lifeboat to seek others who might be helpless and lost.

Permission was readily given by Captain Snoddy, and in a few moments Sinclair, accompanied by Seaman Campbell, Robert Rasmussen and W. Ross, had pulled off in the darkness. From raft to raft the quartet guided the swimming craft and time after time returned to their ship, each time with a load of rescued.

In all, nine trips were made and some thirty passengers from a watery grave by the Anyox sailors, then, when about to embark on another voyage of venture, the "crazy" craft filled and crashed against the side of the Anyox and disappeared in the tide, precipitating the rescuers into the Pacific. Willing hands helped them aboard and the sailors resumed the work of succoring the survivors. In the meantime another half-swamped lifeboat crashed into the midship section of the Villard. On the alert, the crew of the Villard, under the direction of Captain J. Clark, First Officer R. McRae and Harry Duncan, E. Dalton, William Myers and Jesse Kaiser, went over the side on improvised lines and succeeded in dragging the two occupants off this craft to safety.

While this rescue was taking place on the Villard, the Anyox still continued to cruise about the wreckage and half-swamped life craft of the Alaska; one by one the boats were met and the occupants taken aboard. Little by little the rescuing vessel covered the field of the wreck and took aboard the passengers and crew found clinging to cabin doors and bits of floating timber.

Splendid Work.
Despite the heavy swell running, not a soul of the 70 members of the crew or 94 passengers were injured in being removed from the water to the Anyox. Coming aboard, many of them horribly burned by blazing oil, the survivors were accorded the best of treatment by the Anyox's crew.

Many of them had their garments torn off in the struggle with the waves. Others were in night attire. To the best of their ability the crew of the Anyox removed the survivors and every member of the crew gave freely from his scanty store of wearing apparel.

The captain resigned his quarters to an injured man; the first officer surrendered his room to an elderly couple, who had been snatched from the very jaws of death, and despite the close quarters, the survivors were fed and made as comfortable as possible until the Anyox discharged her human freight in Eureka.

COMPANY OFFICIALS FEAR S.S. SAN JOSE WILL BE TOTAL LOSS

Attempt to Haul Vessel Off Rocks Yesterday Proved Unsuccessful

San Francisco, Aug. 11.—Passengers, mail and baggage from the Pacific Mail steamship San Jose, which grounded August 9 on Anacapa Island, Lower California, will arrive in San Diego early to-night aboard the United States destroyer Farquhar, according to a wireless message received here to-day from the naval vessel.

An attempt to haul the San Jose off the rocks at high tide yesterday afternoon was unsuccessful, the message said.

The steamship Griffith, which has been standing by the stranded ship, may not be able to remain as her supplies of fuel and provisions are low. The commander of the Farquhar recommended that another destroyer or steamship be sent to the San Jose.

Fear that the San Jose would be a total loss was expressed by officials of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company last night.

The San Jose carried $500,000 in gold bullion in her treasure chest, and this, company officers said, along with the passengers and United States mail aboard, had been transferred to the Farquhar.

LIFEBOAT CREWS MUST BE EFFICIENT IS AMERICAN ORDER

Laws Covering Livesaving Facilities Ordered More Strictly Observed

San Francisco, Aug. 11.—A letter notifying thirty-one steamship companies with offices in San Francisco that hereafter all ships leaving this port would be compelled to observe strictly the laws regarding competency of lifeboat crews, was dispatched to-day by J. O. Davis, collector of port. Davis said he took this action in view of the great loss of life resulting from the wreck of the Alaska and the alleged inefficient handling of lifeboats by that vessel's crew, as charged by passengers.

MUSIC THE RESTORER.

Music in early Biblical times was credited with having not only the power to charm, but also with the more important but less widely recognized power to cure. History records that a former Spanish King was subjected to violent fits of melancholy. So marked an effect had this madness upon him that he withdrew to a darkened room and nothing could induce him to leave his seclusion nor to resume an interest in the life around him. Thereupon a noted Italian singer was ordered to sing in an adjoining room. Though at first no apparent effect was visible, tears finally came into the monarch's eyes and he commanded his door to be opened. The great singer with his soothing melodies had brought order and calmness to the king's disturbed mind, and so he became his natural self again.

SAYS BOARD HAS WIDE POWERS WITH POLICE DEPARTMENT

Legal Opinion of Eminent Lawyer Supports Commission

Sidelights on the impasse between the City Council and the Board of Police Commissioners were given to-day by a leading legal authority. To The Times it was stated that the Board of Police Commissioners were fully within their powers in recommending and establishing a new police department, the Morality Department, being the case in point. The board has power to recommend as many constables as they required, and the council is obligated to appoint them and may not reduce the number. The board further has the power to fix the salaries, and the council is forced subject to appeal being sustained by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council, to pay such salaries as are recommended. The board has not, however, thought the legal mind, power to make any increases repressive, but could achieve this effect by granting higher salaries for a period to make up the deficiency in fact, and then reduce again to the level of the increase desired. In matters pertaining to the dispositions of the constables within the force the board has the power to make all such provisions as they think fit for the efficiency of the force.

The sections of the municipal act that cover these points were cited as follows:

Section 414 of the Municipal Act says the police force shall consist of a chief and as many constables and other officers and assistants as the council may from time to time think fit. Such number not being less than that recommended by the Board of Police Commissioners, who may report the number absolutely required for the efficient administration of law and order. Such shall be appointed by the City Council and hold office at the pleasure of the Board of Police Commissioners. Under section 417 of the act, the Board of Police Commissioners shall fix the remuneration of the police, and the council shall, subject to an appeal to the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council, pay such remuneration, and provide for all clothing and accoutrements necessary for the force.

RADICAL PROGRAMME OF CIVIC REFORM IS URGED

"4. Schools to be under special 'Education Committee' elected by the Council from amongst themselves. Directly under the Committee to be a 'School Superintendent,' just as under Police Commissioners is Chief of Police, or under Streets Committee is City Engineer; or under Legislative Committee the City Solicitor; or Fire Warden the Fire Chief, or Health Committee the Medical Health Officer, etc.

"5. Police to be under a special police committee to be known as at present, as the 'Board of Police Commissioners,' to consist of Mayor, as chairman—as is now the case—and two members of the Council, elected by the Council from amongst themselves.

Three Year Terms.

"6.—Aldermen, same number as at present, elected for three year terms; five members retiring every third year, three members retiring in each of other years. Pay one hundred dollars a month each.

"7. Mayor's term of office two years. Elected by the public. To give entire time to municipal duties, and not to actively engage in private business during term of office. Pay six thousand dollars per year.

"8. That the qualification for the municipal franchise shall be six months residence or property qualifications.

"The foregoing are the outstanding essentials required to secure a very great improvement in Victoria's municipal government.

"It would only unduly lengthen this memo, and at once render it voluminous, to deal here, with desirability of a separate charter for Victoria, legislative restrictions, taxation disputes, with the Provincial Government, etc., for the fact is that a strengthened City Council, with the continuity of policy that the foregoing assures, and with the support, co-operation and 'team work' of a representative 'Chamber of Commerce,' will have little difficulty in formulating their demands and in obtaining whatever legislative reforms may be desirable and fair."

Chairman of School Body.

The Todd memorandum as originally drafted provided that the Mayor should be the chairman of the committee which should run the schools.

Alderman Woodward raised strong opposition to this plan.

"I can recall many mayors during the last ten years absolutely unfitted to head an educational committee," he said. "You might have a first-class educationalist on the Council, and yet he could not head the school committee under this plan."

"The citizens should not make the mistakes they have done in the past in selecting a Mayor," Alderman Todd replied. "They should select a man who could head any committee. The schools always will be a source of big expenditure, and the Mayor, whom the people consider as chiefly responsible in this direction, should be in charge."

A majority of the meeting agreed with Alderman Woodward, and the clause urging that the Mayor be the school committee chairman was deleted.

Oppose Long Term.

Aldermen Woodward and Fullerton opposed a longer aldermanic term than two years. "I can't see a little support. A majority thought that a two-year term did not allow a civic government sufficient continuity of office."

"It takes a new alderman one year to learn his duties," said Alderman Dewar.

Discussing the proposal that aldermen should be paid $100 a month, Alderman Todd remarked, "I can't for the life of me see why a man should be expected to serve on the Council and give his time for the honor and glory of the thing—when there is no honor and no glory. We should give this position the honor and respect it should have. Remuneration would help to bring into the Council representatives of the working men and of the wholesale and retail business. The public has not treated its public men fairly, and until they do the so-called better men will not run the office."

"I agree that the aldermen should be paid," Miss Lottie Bowron, president of the Kumtuku Club, remarked.

Must Be Experienced. Mayors of Victoria had to do as much work as Provincial Cabinet members, or more, and certainly should be paid $6,000 a year, Alderman Todd declared. The position, he said, always cost its incumbent large sums of money.

Alderman Woodward objected to a three-year term for the Mayor. "It was advisable to keep the city's chief executive in close touch with the people by annual elections, he affirmed. "We should have the recall," Alderman Dewar urged.

Alderman Todd replied that better men would run for the mayorality if they were assured of three years of office, during which they could work out a policy to a conclusion.

"There is no such thing as a Mayor and his policy—policy is formed by the Council," said Alderman Fullerton, who favored a two-year mayoral term.

"I'll agree to two years," said Alderman Woodward.

"I'll compromise on two years," said Alderman Todd, and this rider was adopted.

"I'm opposed to the recall," Alderman Todd said during further discussion. "People should elect their public men and support them. To race around with a recall petition, as they do in some American cities is absurd and we should not copy it."

"They have only been a couple of

BROUGHT BY PLANE.

Wallace Reid was billed to appear at the Dominion Theatre in Nanaimo to-day in "Too Much Speed," the great photoplay which is filled with speed, thrills and laugh stuffs, and which has drawn big houses wherever shown. The film which was last shown in Calgary, did not reach Vancouver in time to be shipped by the S.S. Princess Patricia and in order that Manager Harry Eccles and Dominion patrons should not be disappointed a seaplane was engaged for the express purpose of carrying the film from Vancouver to Nanaimo, the pilot arriving here about 12.20 to-day, only a few minutes after the arrival of the Pat. The trip across the Gulf was made in good time despite a strong headwind, and after delivering "Too Much Speed" safely into the hands of Manager Eccles, the plane started back on the return journey taking back to the Terminal City the film "The Little Fool," which is to be the feature on the bill at the Capital Theatre.
